Statement of Context and Purpose

Highview College has an important role to play in supporting children and their families and in protecting students who may be at risk of harm due to abuse or neglect. Employees in close daily contact with students are well placed to observe when a child or young person appears to be at risk of harm.

Employees have a duty of care to support and protect the children and young people with whom they are professionally involved.

When an employee forms a reasonable belief that a child or young person has been harmed or is at risk of harm, they are legally obligated (by legislation) to take action to protect the safety and wellbeing of that child or young person.

Employees must always act in the best interests of those children and young people to protect and preserve their safety, health and wellbeing. As far as is practicable, employees must monitor the general safety and wellbeing of each and every student in order to meet responsibilities under the duty of care prescribed by legislation.

Application

This policy applies to all mandatory reporters performing functions for Highview College. Those employees who are not mandatory reporters are still required to be aware of the content of this policy and its implications upon their work.

Definitions

Mandatory reporters has the meaning given to it by the Children, Youth and Families Act 2005 (Vic) and includes primary and secondary school teachers, employees with post-secondary qualifications employed to undertake childcare services, principals, school nurses and students in training to become teachers.

Responsibilities

When a mandatory report is required

Mandatory reporters must, and employees who are not mandatory reporters are expected to, take steps (in accordance with the law and this policy) to ensure that a report is made to Child Protection (within the Department of Human Services) as soon as practicable after forming a belief on reasonable grounds, in the course of undertaking their professional duties, that a young child or young person is in need of protection from significant harm as a result of physical injury, grooming or sexual abuse, and the child's parents/guardians have not, or are unlikely to, protect the child from that harm.

Referral to Child FIRST

A referral to Child FIRST should be considered if, after taking into account the available information, the mandatory reporter forms a view that the concerns have a low-to-moderate impact on the wellbeing of the child and the child is not at immediate risk of harm.

Who should make a report or referral?

Generally it would be the Head of School (Child Safety Officer) that would make a report to Child Protection or a referral to Child FIRST after consultation with the mandatory reporter(s).

If the Head of School is not available, it will be the Principal. The Principal will inform the relevant mandatory reporter(s) if they have or have not made a report or a referral.

If the Head of School does not wish to make a mandatory report, this does not discharge the mandatory reporter's legal obligation to do so if the mandatory reporter continues to hold a reasonable belief that abuse may have occurred in circumstances where the student's parents/guardians have not or are unlikely to protect their child from that harm. In that circumstance, the mandatory reporter must still make a report to Child Protection or a referral to Child FIRST.

Protocol

The mandatory reporter(s) will be instructed to document

- date(s),
- time(s),
- nature of incident,
- patterns of behaviour,
- current and/or prior concerns and grounds for belief, regarding the student in their care (employees will be provided with a list of possible indicators of harm, and definitions to assist in deciding if abuse is occurring and if the impact warrants a report to Child Protection, Child FIRST or another course of action);
- Consult directly with the Head of School and provide the documentation described above; and

- Document and consult directly with the Principal for each and every incident for a child they have concerns about.
- The Principal will:
 - Coordinate information from the reporter and reference any additional student files and information from Heads of School, DELTA Mentors, First Aid Officers, etc.
 - If deemed to be appropriate, contact the relevant family.
 - If deemed to be appropriate, report the matter to Child Protection or refer to Child FIRST.
 - Act as the School's liaison person with Child Protection, Victoria Police or any other relevant authorities.

Own investigations strictly prohibited

Mandatory reporters must follow the above protocol strictly. Under no circumstances should the mandatory reporter 'investigate' an allegation of child abuse. This is the role of Child Protection and/or Victoria Police.

Confidentiality

All employees must respect confidentiality when dealing with a case of suspected child abuse and neglect, and may only discuss case details and the identity of the child or young person and their family only with those involved in managing the situation.

Consequences of a Breach of this Policy

Highview College emphasises the need to comply with the requirements of this policy. Any employee found to be in breach of the requirements of this policy may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.

Implications for practice

At Board / Principal Level

To properly implement this policy, Highview College, the Board and/or the Principal must ensure:

- that this policy is endorsed on an annual basis
- that a copy of this policy are made available to employees on the Highview College website
- that this policy is incorporated into the Board's / Principal's record of current policies
- that this policy is incorporated into Highview College's induction program, to ensure that all employees are aware of the policy, have read and understood the policy, and acknowledge their commitment to comply with the policy
- that periodic training and refresher sessions are administered to all employees in relation to this policy

At Other Levels

To properly implement this policy, all Highview College's employees must ensure that they abide by this policy and assist Highview College in the implementation of this policy.
